school and the effect of such construction on county taxes.

Jaycee representatives talked with the board about alternatives to the raising of the tax rate. The board said this, "It is possible that the present tax rate ($3.00 per hundred evaluation-) will not be raised." The members said that reassessment of property next year plus normal growth of the county may take care of the needed, additional income.

In the 1965-66 reassessment $55,000 additional revenue was realized by the county.

The supervisors discussed the problem of stating at this time just what measures need to be taken in the future. The possibility of an automobile tag for all county vehicles was discussed as well as other plans for raising revenue.

New Kind Of Match Game

Rescue Squad members and volunteer helpers going two by two canvassed the Red House area last week and when the canvass was over the various teams compared notes on the amount of their "take" for the evening. A Red House resident asked, "What was the highest amount taken in?" Turned out to be $134.00 in one section of the area. "I'll match that, said the gentleman and promptly wrote out a check. Now the Squad is $268 closer to a $12-500 ambulance because small gifts added up to a new kind of matching grant. Anybody else want to match $100 - or $200—or more?

ASKS HELP ON FAMILY RESEARCH

I am doing research on John Reid, died about 1830, of Campbell County, and need the following information. Did he and his wife Martha have more than four children? I know of Theodore Henderson, John, Jr., Martha F. (married William W. Williams) and Clarissa (married Jack D. Harvie (Harvey)).

Also, does anyone in the area know of Susan Silean Reid, daughter of William O. Reid, or Elizabeth Fulton, daughter of Samuel M. Fulton? They were living in 1873.

Martha F. Reid Williams, left land for a family burial ground, and if anyone knows the whereabouts of this, it would be most helpful. Thank you for your assistance. Write: Mrs. Elizabeth Reid Austin, 118 Newman St., Greenville, S. C. 29601.
